IMPORTANT NEWS!

The newsletter of Nucleria

Dear Nuclerians,

We are proudly part of the United Branded Nations. In our world, a respectful relationship, well-defined agreements with and willingness towards all the member-states are crucial and indispensable. Recently, we were involved in a minor conflict with Rustica, one of our neighboring countries. The safety and well-being of all Nuclerians are always of paramount importance. Both Rustica and Nucleria agree that family is the most important thing in life. That is why the authorities handled this conflict with mutual respect, in all discretion and within a reasonable timeframe.

Some weeks ago, we were informed that Norman, a Rustican fisherman, made some false allegations against our nation. He believed that one of our vessels was dumping nuclear waste at sea. This allegation was not supported by any facts or pieces of evidence. Since the Rustican was, to our first observation, located on territorial water, we took him into custody. This decision was made in the interest of our national security. Given the seriousness of the situation, we immediately started negotiating with their government.

As you have had the opportunity to see in our weekly newsletters so far, our nuclear waste management program disposes of waste with the utmost care. It must be noted though that it is not prohibited by law to throw organic food, paper and its products into the sea. We located the vessel that Rustica's fisherman allegedly saw, and after examining the situation we were told that nothing prohibited by law was thrown into the sea.

Our authorities have located the owner of the vessel, to shed some light on this unfortunate situation. After a thorough interrogation of the vessel owner and an inspection of his vessel, it was established that there was no trace of nuclear waste on the vessel. Therefore, it is possible that the Rustican fisherman saw people from the vessel throwing something into the sea, but this was certainly not nuclear waste.

To resolve the issue with Rustica, we have come to an agreement. We decided to release the fisherman to reunite with his family since both of our countries value family the most, and his family needs him to provide for them. Rustica has agreed to drop the false accusations towards our country, stop spreading this misinformation, and to clear our name. In exchange, we will drop the charge of trespassing for the fisherman. He will not be prosecuted for it in court.

Rather than being based on facts, the accusations of Rustica appear to be based on bad observation, as such we decided to investigate the issue further. With a team of objective Nuclarian and Rustican specialists, we will review our radioactive waste management program. We will take into consideration the recommendations from the team, if any, to improve the program.

Only when proven that our waste was the cause of the sick fish, will we negotiate financial compensation for losses caused by the crisis. We are certain our scientists will prove our innocence, to resolve this issue once and for all.
